LOOKING WEST — toward Daly City at Southern Freeway construction in San Francisco at Justin drive overpass. This section of the Southern Freeway between Milton street and the interchange with the James Lick (Bayshore) Freeway is expected to be opened to traffic late this year.

IT BEGINS HERE — The 3.9 mile Junipero Serra Freeway begins at Orizaba avenue and extends to Eastmoor avenue in Daly City on the Junipero Serra Freeway (Interstate 280). This view is on the Daly City side looking east from Orizaba to Alemany boulevard and San Jose avenue.

New Location On Hill St.

The former Junipero Serra Hospital will be moved this week from its location at 1690 Briggs street, Colma, where it will be re-installed as an emergency service on an extension of Hill street.

The emergency service, designed as a stop-gap facility to fill much-needed emergency hospital needs in the north-county, is a private enterprise of Dr. Alfred Marquez, 2411 Ocean avenue, San Francisco.

Hill street was recently paved. The emergency hospital will be set back from the street among a grove of Eucalyptus trees. Movers will lift the old building from its foundations and carry it across Junipero Serra boulevard.

Dr. Marquez said that the hospital is expected to be staffed with a pediatrician, gynocologist and internist. The building will not serve overnight patients. In the area where beds were in the old building will be physician's offices.

The building will contain modern emergency facilities, Dr. Marquez said.

In other news of emergency service, county medical authorities said this week that plans are going ahead for San Mateo County use of the University of California Medical Clinic for north-county emergency hospital service.

The use of this facility by San Mateo County is expected to be approved within two weeks by the hospital Board of Regents.

This will facilitate the need for emergency facilities in North San Mateo County, currently being met in part by Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco and the Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame.

Ivy League Gunman Robs Liquor Store

A gunman in Ivy league attire pointed an automatic pistol at a clerk in a liquor store owned by Daly City Councilman, and San Francisco 49er star Bob St. Clair last Friday night, escaping with $376 in currency.

The store is located at 7144 Mission street on the Top of the Hill in Daly City.

The clerk, George Sales, 42, of San Francisco, told officers that the robber had crouched out of sight behind the counter, after entering the store at approximately 10:30. Sales said that he had been at the rear of the store at that time. On returning to the counter the gunman stood up suddenly and told Sales to "gimme all your bills. Stack your bill right here. If you make a move I'll blow your head off." After taking the money the gunman carefully wiped the counter and floor where he had hidden, with a handkerchief.

Ironically, the first officer at the scene, Neil Hammerman, had cruised past the store front only a few minutes before the robbery.

Local Freeway Bids Slated

The first steps toward meeting the growing need for high-standard north south traffic arteries through the central hilly portion and along the ocean coast in San Mateo county were taken this year with the budgeting of funds for freeway projects on Junipero Serra and the Cabrillo Highway.

In addition, major improvements are currently in progress on El Camino Real, as well as on the east-west connection in the City of San Mateo, the 19th avenue freeway.

Bids will shortly be advertised for a 3.9-mile project between Palmetto drive in San Francisco and one-half mile south of Eastmoor avenue in Daly City on the Junipero Serra Freeway (interstate 280).

Approximately $10,000,000 has been included in the 1963-64 budget for construction of this work.

The first unit of this important interstate facility (Route 280) to be constructed in San Mateo County, the project includes rough grading, drainage and frontage road construction for the future State Sign Route 1 connection to Skyline boulevard and Pacifica.

The work will also include the completion of the Southern Freeway in San Francisco between Orizaba avenue and the Junipero Serra Freeway.

This project includes an interchange between the freeways in the vicinity of Alemany boulevard and the Knowles - avenue - Alemany boulevard overcrossing.

Four other traffic separations will be provided, and two overcrossings to carry frontage road traffic over the freeway.

Three contractors are currently underway for the completion or the Southern Freeway within the City and County of San Francisco.

Work has also been started

Thief Nabbed in Illegal Turn

An illegal left turn in Los Angeles and a routine records check by Los Angeles police landed Gerald Wendall Hilton, 30, in jail on grand auto theft charges.

According to Daly City police, Hilton had taken his girl friend's car in San Francisco and drove it to Daly City where he forged the pink slip and sold the car at a used car lot.

Using this car as a down payment, he bought another car and drove off. Daly City police issued printed bulletins throughout the state.

Hilton is a former prison parolee and has worked as a welder, mechanic and car salesman.

Christen Land High School Site Discussed

The initial correspondence with the appointed architect, Falk and Booth, for the proposed JUHSD high school for the Christen development was reviewed Monday night by the district board. A letter from the Crocker Land Co. to the administration suggested that the planning of the development is "well underway" and that a selection of the high school site should be agreed upon within the near future.

The high school will serve not only the Christen area, but also the Fairmont subdivision in Pacifica, which, on completion, will contain 1800 homes, and the residents of Westview, Portola Heights and Pacific Heights.

Jefferson Project

The Jefferson Board accepted the bids for the final site work which had been awarded to the Bernard Gayman Co. for $116,218.

On August 5, bids for painting the remaining buildings of the original Jefferson plant will be opened. The buildings will be painted a color to be chosen by the

Home Gutted By Flames

A fire of undetermined origin gutted the interior of the A. Saraceni residence Tuesday evening, July 16 at 978 Templeton avenue, Daly City.

Damage to the wood frame structure was estimated at $15,000 by Batallion Chief Wayne Alexander. An adjoining house at 848 Templeton caught fire and received an estimated $1,000 damage.

Saraceni told firemen he was fixing a television antenna on the roof about 8:30 p.m. and his wife was talking on the telephone when he smelled smoke. By the time he got down from the roof the house was on fire. His wife grabbed two children who were sleeping in bed and ran outside. Two other children were playing outside.

Three engine companies were called and took over an hour to control the blaze. Firemen theorized the fire started in the kitchen.

Suffers Stroke

Genevie Silva, 525 Bright street, San Francisco, suffered a slight stroke July 21 in front of 7400 Mission street. She was taken for treatment at Kaiser Hospital by Mercy Ambulance.

Agreement Nears on Knowles Right of Way

The $500,000 Knowles-Los Banos street project designed to provide one-way traffic between Mission street and the proposed Junipero Serra Freeway lost one of its major stumbling blocks when one of four "hold-outs" agreed to the city's price.

In Monday night's Daly City council meeting, the deed to the property at 25 Los Banos street, owned by Bessie Garry and Arthur Moore. According to city attorney, Paul Hupf, two of the three remaining property owners within the projects' path have indicated a willingness to discuss the city's offer.

The council also accepted a deed to a one-foot wide strip of property bordering Los Banos street.

Demolition of the homes is scheduled to begin in October and to be complete by January. The two streets will then be widened, and turned into one-way thoroughfares.

Jeff Seeks School Annex

District Superintendent Richard Foster Monday suggested the Jefferson Elementary District Board of Trustees consider annexation of the Roosevelt School site to Daly City.

The school now is located in the extreme northwestern portion of Pacifica. A land trade plan had earlier reached a stalemate.

The board voted to authorize Foster to explore the annexation possibilities.

In other action, the board voted to authorize a five cent tax on district property owners to finance a new health insurance programe for district employees.

Lights Out at Mori's Point

Lights went out last week at Mori's Point Inn at Pacifica when building inspector Dick Taylor ordered the PG&E to turn off the electricity.

Taylor said owners had been ordered to make correction in hazardous electrical work on the premises. When they failed to do so, he requested the power be turned off.

New City Directory Soon To Be Published

Work on the new Daly City directory has been progressing at a rapid rate, and it is anticipated that it will be ready for delivery within two months.

The much-needed directory will carry listings of service clubs, information on city services, schools, churches and other activities, as well as advertising of local merchants.

Need for the directory has been apparent for some time. Daly City, Westlake, Colma and Broadmoor are incorporated with San Francisco directories, and this has complicated the finding of local firms and organizations.

No local directory has been published since 1959 when it was sponsored by The Record.

According to Ramona Birke, Daly City Hostess, who is preparing the directory, 20,000 copies will be printed and distributed to all homes in Daly City, Westlake, Broadmoor and Colma. Additional copies will be given to new residents moving into the area.

Associated with Mis Birke in selling advertising in the new directory is George W. Nutter of Motivation Unlimited.

County Begins Long Range Highway Plan

The Board of Supervisors has taken steps to formulate a long-range highway construction program despite the failure of the voters to approve the $35 million bond issue. Resolutions are being prepared by the District Attorney's office to formalize the Greater Highways Committee as an official commission of the county.

All cities in the county will be asked to adopt similar resolutions and appoint an official representative to the commission. Once this group is legally formed, studies will be started to decide the best approach to proceed with the road projects outlined in the Nolte report as listed in the June bond issue.

There are no rumblings of another bond issue. On the contrary, Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, who headed the highway bond plan, said he would be opposed to another election of any amount in the foreseeable future. The new commission could come up with ideas of its own, however.

The thinking now is to proceed by using gas and in lieu tax monies, supplemented by sales taxes. The new Collier-Burns act increasing gas taxes one cent a gallon will double the present income of cities from this source. The county expects to gain about 10 percent, or $120,000 a year. This new income must be spent with matching funds from local governments, and this is where the sales tax comes in.

While this program in no way matches the accelerated building program outlined in the bond issue, it will be a start. Officials of the Governmental Research Council and the Town Hall Association have recommended the financing approach outlined above in hopes of getting some of our most critical road projects under way.

The first phase of a new telephone system for county government centers was put into effect this week. According to Henry P. Tarratt, whose department now has charge of all communication facilities, the county will save approximately 30 percent over the old system which was based on the message plan.

A new four-station switchboard is now in operation on the second floor of the new office building in Redwood City—a month before other offices will move in. It brings all the county phones in Redwood City, the health and welfare units, and the county court and health center in South San Francisco into a direct line system, eliminating all "long distance" calls. Later the San Mateo court center, Hillcrest Juvenile Hall, library and Crystal Springs will be tied in, completing the new setup.

Some 550 telephones were involved in the initial changeover. Switchboards in the offices of the sheriff, school superintendent, district attorney and the health center have been eliminated. One less operator will be required to handle the new system. The installation was supervised by Pacific Telephone and county technicians at a cost of approximately $1,000 to the county.

Steps are under way to form a new safety council that would include all cities. Later it is planned to have the unit become a member of the National Safety Council. The county, the cities, industry and private citizens would be asked to contribute to the chapter's support. A full-time safety director would guide the activities, aimed at reducing accidents in the home, in business and industrial plants, and on the highways . . . as well as carry on an accident prevention program for employees of the county and cities.

Hearings are to be called

DREAM GIRL — Miss Daly City, Claudia Smith, congratulates Louisa Borcherding who was crowned Fiesta Dream Girl at annual beauty contest in San Mateo Thursday. Donna will serve as attendant during Fiesta Aug. 2 - 10.

Miss S. Mateo Is Dream Girl

Louisa Borcherding, a reluctant entry in the recent Miss San Mateo contest, was chosen Dream Girl of the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta before an appreciative audience of over 500 civic leaders.

The beautiful 17-year-old high school senior will reign over the nine-day Fiesta beginning August 2 and will represent her county as official hostess for the next year.

Blonde and brown-eyed Louisa, daughter of Detective Sergeant and Mrs. John F. Borcherding, joined the San Mateo contest against the wishes of her father, who was traveling in the East. "She finally decided that she might be of some help to her community," her mother remarked.

Louisa's victory brings the Dream Girl crown to San Mateo for the first time in over ten years. A statuesque 5 feet 6 inches tall, Louisa weighs 125 pounds and measures 35-24-35.

The San Mateo Dream Girl was chosen from an array of thirteen beauties representing Peninsula communities from Daly City to Menlo Park.

Firemen Rescue Boy with Oxygen

Firemen from Station 2 in Daly City responded July 22 to a call from a worried mother that her two-year-old child, Wesley J. Wessley of 97 Los Banos was turning blue from lack of air.

Firemen applied inhalation to the child, who seemed to have a high fever and received positive results. The boy was taken to Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco and was reported "breathing good."

on the first unit of the Southern - Embarcadero Extension Freeway and funds are budgeted for an additional section.

Southern Freeway

The first usable project on the Southern Freeway, between Milton street and the interchange with the James Lick (Bayshore) Freeway is expected to be opened to traffic late this year. The $4,273,000 project is being constructed by Charles L. Harney, Inc. as are the other two units currently under construction. When completed it will provide 4.7 miles of six-lane (ultimate eight-lane) freeway.

Two major overcrossing structures serving local traffic to and from Alemany boulevard are included, as well as overcrossings for Mission street, Justin drive and a pedestrian bridge near Gladstone drive.

Nine structures will be overcrossings and undercrossings in the vicinity of San Jose avenue, to furnish traffic service to San Jose avenue, Monterey boulevard, Bosworth street and Lyell street. A sum of $6,080,000 has been allotted for this project.

This project will not be usable for traffic until the third unit between Ocean avenue and Orizaba avenue has been completed, in the summer of 1964.

Interchange facilities will be constructed at Ocean avenue and ramps will be provided for traffic to and from San Jose avenue in the vicinity of Plymouth avenue on this $4,581 project.

$29,000 for Westmoor HS Water Repairs

A minimal bid of $29,305 was awarded to Cooper Bros. Inc. for restoration of service to the Westmoor cafeteria at the Jefferson High school board meeting Monday night.

The decision to postpone more extensive repairs of the sub-surface water lines came after a general report on a closed executive session with the district attorney's office was heard. Repair of the underground system, bid at $52,272, has been set aside pending further developments and in view of possible litigation.

Both the Bradley Plumbind Heating Co. and the Phillip Carey Co. have said that an examination of the circumstances of the failure of the hot water system leaves them in great doubt of holding any responsibility.

The Carey Co. stated in a letter, however, that "from a sales policy standpoint, we will be willing to assume mutually agreeable share of the costs of insulating a redesigned system. . . . This of course contemplates cooperation on the part of others who were contractually responsible for the design and construction of the . . . original system."

Studies Made

An examination of the waterpoofed pipe was conducted in the laboratory of Abbot A. Hanks, Inc. Their report stated that "in several areas of the (waterproofed) . . . section there is an absence of asphaltic material. . . . At one point it is possible to see through the entire (waterproofing) membrane." The report concluded that the corrosion resistant materials were not applied in a correct manner.

Morgan assured the board that repairs by the Cooper Bros. company will be complete by the time Westmoor is scheduled to open for the fall term.

715 New High School Students

Forty-six new teachers and an enrollment increase of 715 new students are expected in the Jefferson Union High School District when school opens Sept. 10.

The enrollment will jump from last year's 4,960 to 5,675. At Terra Nova High, the increase will be 110 students to a total of 1100. Oceana's registration will jump 245 to 875 and Westmoor will increase by 280 students to a total of 2,050. The increase at Jefferson High will be 80 to a total of 1650.

The new teachers were hired to take care of increased enrollment, and to fill vacancies due to resignations. Thirty-one are new to teaching, 11 are in social science, 11 English, 6 Business, 3 foreign languages, 4 physical education, 2 fine arts, 3 science, 1 mathematics, 3 homemaking and 2 industrial education.

Fifteen of the new teachers were educated at San Francisco State, seven at University of California, four at USF, two at San Jose State, and two at UC at Davis.

Theft from Auto

Tools, bowling equipment and a bracelet were reported stolen from a car parked by Douglas Lee Finn, 2035 46th avenue, San Francisco, at a Daly City bowling alley parking lot. Value of the articles was set at $150.

BURNED OUT HOME — A fire at 878 Templeton avenue, in Daly City, turned out to be almost too hot to handle July 16, gutting the interior of the building and setting fire to an adjacent home. Damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

soon to set up the Colma Flood Control zone in the South San Francisco area. The initial cost to the district is estimated at $200,000 with annual operation and maintenance estimated at $25,000. A new amendment to Assembly Bill 1439 passed by the legislature this year, allows the county to set up subzones on the basis of benefits conferred. This project can expect both state and federal aid in the initial construction costs.

Price tags ranging up to $20 million have been put on the job of correcting flood problems on the San Francisquito Creek. A joint committee of officials from San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties, the cities of Menlo Park and Palo Alto, and Stanford University have been studying this problem under the chairmanship of Supervisor William M. Werder. A dam near Ladera, still considered the most acceptable plan, is opposed by the University. Immediate action will be to remove a few trees that appear ready to fall into the creek and add to the flood dangers.

Supervisor T. Louis Chess and County Engineer Don S. Wilson represented the county at an all-day meeting of the Central Coast Counties Supervisors Association in Monterey last Friday. Discussions centered around actions taken by the legislature as they applied to county governments.

Dedication of the new $3 million, five-story office building in Redwood City has been put over to the fall, probably in October. Building Director Tarratt wants to get the departments settled in their new quarters and complete at least a portion of the mall and landscaping before inviting the public to an open house and dedication program. The new building has been entirely paid for on a pay-as-you-go basis, thus saving all interest and carrying charges.

Ankle Injury

William E. Zelinskey, of 77 Seacliff drive, the victim of a fall from a cliff above the Coast Road at Thornton Beach on July 20, was transported to Kaiser Hospital, South San Francisco by Mercy ambulance with a possible broken ankle.

W'lake Man Patents Aquarium Frame

Who'd ever think you could make an aquarium unit out of wood?

Frank M. Stout of 384 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City, did, and it appears, is making money from his invention.

A teacher since 1948, Stout makes his aquarium tanks at home and sells them to restaurants throughout the state. His patent was approved by the U. S. Patent Office on July 2.

It took Stout five long years to develop his aquarium frame. He is a former pattern-maker and model sailboat designer and teaches mechanical drawing and wood shop at all-Negro McClymond High school in Oakland.

"I thought I was pretty good at woodmaking, but when I started making fish tanks I found out it was tough."

Fish tanks, he explained, are emersed in water all the time. Therefore the frame structure which holds the glass panels has to be able to withstand effects of water and corrosion.

Stout has many features of his tank which set it apart from ordinary metal frame tanks.

- For one, the wood frame doesn't rust. It is coated with a special adhesive and stain. The wood also blends in with furniture.
- Each tank is fitted with a wooden hood to prevent the evaporation of water.
- The wood frame is sealed into place and adhesive which holds the glass panels is designed to not slip or shrink.

It took Stout thousands of dollars to develop his aquarium.

As he put it, "I just wanted to make a satisfactory fish tank."

AQUA-INVENTOR — Frank M. Stout, of 384 St. Francis boulevard, Daly City, inspects one of his "Aqua-Scape" inventions, for which he recently received a patent. The Aqua-Scape is an aquarium unit which features a wooden rather than metal frame.

The impetus behind all this started with a neighbor who gave Stout a fish tank which leaked and corroded.

Stout designed a wooden hood for the tank, and later got the idea that the entire frame could easily be made out of wood and wouldn't leak.

But his biggest trouble was trying to figure how to keep it from rotting and falling apart. He helped develop a special resin for this purpose.

Stout's tanks also come with a specially-designed filter which has a little propeller in a cylinder and sucks water into a filter bath in the hood section.

The entire project is cleverly and neatly designed. His wife Jeannie, who is also a school teacher, and children, Robbie, 5, Suzannie Louis, 3½ and Penny, 10 months, are quite proud.

Stout, model boat racer, represented the United States in the model boat racing championships in England in 1955. The following year, he won the state model boat racing championship.

One of Stout's 150 gallon "Aquascape" tanks is rented to Joe's of Westlake. The Castaway Restaurant in Jack London Square, Oakland, has another of his tanks.

Stout feels his invention will be a motivating force to his students in Oakland.

"I am continually confronted with youngsters who say "What can I do today."

They will find out, Stout, that anything is possible with a little hard work and immagination."

Bayshore Fire District Dissolution Vote Set

Sample ballots are being mailed this week to all registered voters in Bayshore City, advising them of a special election to be held on Tuesday, August 13, on the question of dissolution of the Bayshore Fire District.

The dissolution of the fire district must be accomplished before Daly City can legally furnish fire protection to the Bayshore area.

September 1 has tentatively been set as the date on which the fire district will cease to exist. At that time Daly City will take over the operations of the Bayshore Fire Department, however, Chief Herbert Ritzmann of Bayshore assures the local residents that there will be no interruption, nor any changes in fire protection. Members of the fire district will be blanketed into the Daly City fire department and will continue to operate the station at Geneva Avenue and Schwerin Street.

Chief Ritzmann and the commissioners of the Bayshore Fire District urge all Bayshore voters to vote "yes" on August 13 for the dissolution of the fire district as part of the orderly annexation of Bayshore City to Daly City.

architects that will be compatible with the new buildings.

The second round of bidding on the addition to Terra Nova will be opened on July 30, it was announced Monday night. The plans have been revised in order to cut the construction costs to the level demanded by the state department of finance.

Budget Announced

The 1963-1964 budget was given its second reading and first public announcement, calling for a slight increase in tax revenue. The increase will mean an approximate increase of three cents per 100 dollars of assessed valuation. The increase results from a decision to include the costs of additional monies required for the health plan for employees and increased requirements for the Point One program for retarded children. These costs were included in the budget as it was pointed out that the district would have to pay the bills incurred anyway.

Your Blood Can Save A Life

Like millions of others, we rejoice in the fact that former President Herbert Hoover is reported to be recovering from his recent serious illness and that bulletins are no longer being issued from the bedside of the 88-year-old elder statesman in New York.

As it was announced that he was suffering bleeding and anemia, the treatment for which usually is blood transfusions while the body rallies its defenses, his recovery appears to be another triumph for American advances in the collection and use of blood. This is something in which we can take pride and something in which we can help.

Thanks to the activities of the American Association of Blood Banks and the American Red Cross, we now have a remarkable system of blood donation under which we can give blood locally and have it credited for the use of a friend or relative who needs it perhaps hundreds of miles away.

Our 2,000 blood banks use more than 5,000,000 pints of blood a year. Surgery has been evolutionized by this availability of blood. It makes possible open heart operations and cuts the toll of automobile accidents.

But it all has to come from human beings and it is needed in summer as well as winter. If you are between 21 and 60 and in good health, you can help save lives by giving blood regularly at aa bank or blood collection center.

Facts About Smog

The Los Angeles Times has just published an exhaustive report on smog — the atmospheric curse of that, and many other cities in California and the nation — and has come up with one inescapable conclusion: While there are many contributory causes, the single most important one is the internal combustion engine. In other words, automobiles and trucks.

As put by the author of the Times series, Irving S. Bengelsdorf, science editor, "We have nothing to replace it with now, but at some point in the future the automoble engine as we know it must be drastically changed, if we are to eliminate smog. This is the almost unanimous opinion of California scientists and engineers."

Various individuals and even government agencies have been attempting to pin the blame on other sources of air pollution. Industrial plants has been one. Home trash incinerators another. But the conclusive evidence is that these are merely peripheral contributors. The unburned hydrocarbons from today's comparatively inefficient internal combustion engines are the major villains.

It is entirely human of the auto industry to spend millions on annual redesign of their product's external appearance. We have a suspicion, however, that the public would hail a manufacturer who announced that in lieu of drastic modification of non-essentials in next year's cars the millions of dollars involved would be channeled into research aimed at reducing the engine's smog-producing proclivities.

"When the bread won't rise nowadays, it's time to repair the toaster." — Lloyd S. Waters, Mountain Home (Idaho) News.

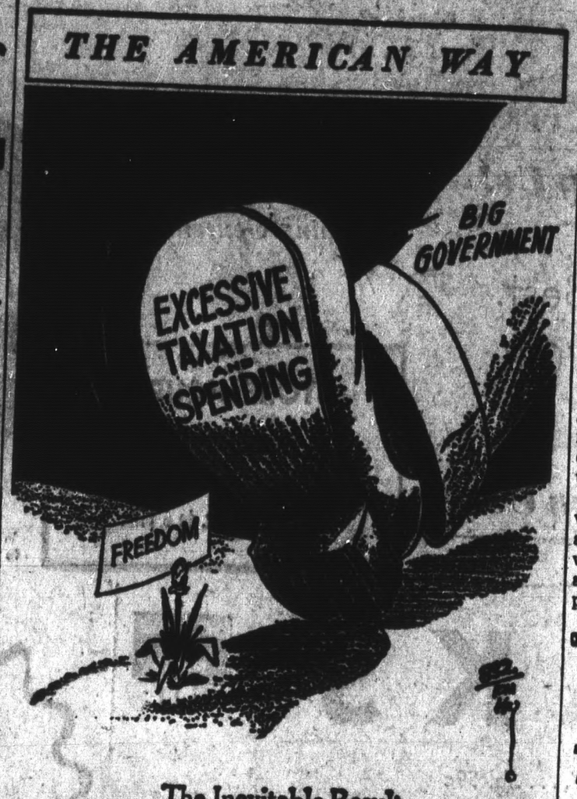
Joseph Bava Selected For SFS Program

Joseph J. Bava, business instructor at Jefferson High School, has been selected by San Francisco State College to participate in a special work experience program offered during summer session.

Arrangements for the unique program of teacher participation in office and retail sales experience were made by Dr. Russell Sicklebower and Dr. John H. Linn, Professors of Business at San Francisco State College.

The opportunity to perform the varied duties in modern business establishments is combined with evening classes at San Francisco State College. The evening sessions offer further opportunities to hear business executives discuss how work experience may be related to the school and the classroom activities of the teacher.

Bava, one of the 30 business teachers from over the nation who is active in the program, is employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco.



The Inevitable Result

The View From ... Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

You drive to the San Francisco International Airport and park the car among its ubiquitous fellows in one of the crowded parking lots. You lock it, and the two of you walk into the building and confirm the reservations. The timing is close, but you make it successfully. You try to buy insurance, but the slot machine doesn't work.

So you board the jetliner and notice that stewardesses are there. There are also passengers. Your partner complains mildly because you have appropriated the window seat. The seats are comfortable. The plane takes off. The stewardesses serve coffee.

An hour later you land in Los Angeles. The bus is located, and half an hour later the two of you find yourselves in downtown Los Angeles. You ogle, tourist-like, and stop briefly for refreshment. Then you set out to find the police building.

At a desk in that place, a hashmarked and pretty police officer directs you to the proper office. She is affable and businesslike. You follow her directions and eventually find yourselves at the Detective Bureau, and more specifically in the Homicide Division.

You meet Charles Higbie and Don Petrovich. There officers are casually dressed in street clothing. They are crew cut and bull necked and very fit looking. They are polite and friendly, though not effusive.

Have you men been in Los Angeles long? No, we just got here. Going right back? Yes. Then we'd better check out your man.

So you go with them to the jail. There you are issued one Gerald Wendall Hilton. You introduce yourselves to this man, and he shakes hands all around. Then you all walk out to Higbie's unmarked car. The five of you drive to the airport. You want to get there early, in case there is too much fog and you have to go to Burbank for your plane.

The fog conditions are all right, though, so Petrovich checks your man in with the airport detail of the Los Angeles Police. A shined and polished, youthful looking officer says that he will watch your man.

The four of you seek coffee, and you discuss things professional. You explore the law enforcement aspects of the current civil rights demonstrations in Los Angeles. You find that the L.A. officers are Korean War Veterans. Petrovich had been an Air Force pilot. Higbie had been a Sergeant of Marines. You get along well.

When it gets close to 12:30 a.m. you check out your prisoner from his capable appearing babysitter, and Petrovich and Higbie take you to your airline. You do not handcuff your prisoner, for the airlines frown mightily at such conduct. They don't want their passengers upset at the sight of a handcuffed thief. So you do not handcuff your thief and the passengers are not upset - this, presumably, because what the passengers don't know won't hurt them.

Your thief tractably sits between the two of you. You take the aisle seat. Your partner complains mildly because his window seat is over a wing and he can't see very much. You fly back to San Francisco International Airport. Enroute, Hilton makes his admissions to you concerning his depradations.

The plane lands. You step off the plane. Then your man holds out his hands and you encircle his wrists with handcuffs. There is no comment from the airline people. The three of you find your unmarked auto and drive back to Daly City.

You tape record Hilton's admissions, and then you speak with Sergeant Murray, of the Midnight Watch, concerning the booking. He has Officer Bergstrom book the man and print and mug him. They arrange for his breakfast.

On the way home you reflect that you will have to cancel the wanted bulletin on Hilton and issue one on some other thief. It was lucky that the officer stopped him for making that illegal left turn.

In its latest report on the number of visually handicapped people employed in self-sustaining positions, the American Foundation for the Blind stated that only 4 out of every 10 employable blind people have jobs. It noted that, although visually handicapped people are engaged in over 7000 different work categories, many thousands more could be absorbed into the labor force of the country if given the opportunity to prove their value.

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

"The blunt fact is that many of our teachers are not properly qualified to handle the responsibility we have placed on them . . . large numbers of them are inadequately prepared in the subject matter they teach, as well as in the elements of a genuinely liberal education."

This statement by former Commissioner of Education, Sterling McMurran resembles many current comments on the conditions of teacher education.

Alfred Lynd called the university faculty of education an academician's dream world where prospective teachers are taught hocus-pocus by superpedagogues who so control the curriculum they seem to share Jehovah's prerogatives."

Ann Crockett wrote that progressive educators are prepared to offer "their charges a diet of lollipops."

Harold Benjamin, himself a professor in a teacher's college, created Dr. J. Abner Peddiwell to illustrate the type of instruction presented in some teacher's colleges. In a bar in Tia Juana, Professor Peddiwell delivers a lecture that typifies his teaching. Being unable to find proof that he is at the longest bar in the world, Dr. Peddiwell says. "The curriculum is medieval. It is a faith-conjecture-guess curriculum built on a maximum of speculation and a minimum of exact observation." The only person who understood him was a former student who had failed as a school teacher but found himself beautifully prepared to sell washing machines.

The latest commentary on teacher's education is "The miseducation of American teachers," by James D. Koerner. The author directs his fire against the bad teaching methods used by some professors who instruct prospective teachers. He supports his contentions with case histories showing such men at work. He analyzes text books used in teacher's colleges. He observes that many professors of education have never taught. He warns that educational psychology and the history of education take up more time than does training in the subjects that the student is preparing to teach.

Mr. Koerner's purpose in writing the book is to focus public attention on teacher training until "the generality of the trustees, administrators, and faculties of our universities show as much interest in their colleges of medicine, or evidence as much pride in the products of their departments of education as they have in the products of the departments of chemistry or physics . . . until faculties of education are really committed to the elimination of trivia from their curricula and to a full concentration on the large and important educational problems that deserve exacting scholarly attention."

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

Once again the San Mateo County Branch of the American Cancer Society has "gone over the top" in its annual Crusade — an accomplishment which renews our faith in San Mateo County's faithful donors.

While we are naturally gratified by the response which accounts for a fund of more than $100,000, such generosity brings with it a need to evaluate our program. The American Cancer Society conducts a vigorous program of research and education concerning all types of cancer, including leukemia, cancer of the lung, breast, bone, pancreas, etc., not delineating or separating any one cancer site or type for special attention.

Such analysis makes one factor tower over everything else. That is the mighty role of the volunteer in all our efforts. From our volunteer chairmen, Thomas C. Moroney, Mrs. E. A. Sandberg and Robert De Weese on through the ranks to the door-to-door block worker, this has been a campaign based on real service. In the face of seemingly endless appeals for other worthwhile charities, the American Cancer Society volunteer continues to serve in a way that is truly inspiring.

Any review of the recent Crusade must also include a sincere thank you to the press. We recognize that space is at a premium and therefore appreciate how generous the DALY CITY RECORD and WESTLAKE TIMES have been in publicizing our year round efforts at public education and the spread of life saving information.

We pledge to continue this program of research, public education and service to those in need of assistance, until cancer is conquered.

Gratefully yours,
Mrs. Edward Jenanyan
President
San Mateo County Branch
American Cancer Society

Dear Editor:

Thank you on behalf of Alpha Alpha Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, for the fine publicity covering our activities this past year.

We all appreciate your interest and cooperation in helping us get off to such a good start.

Sincerely yours,
Marion Simmons
Publicity chairman,
1962-1963.

Tips For Driving In Mountains

Mountains, with their breathtaking scenery, are pleasant to drive through, but they do call for strict attention to driving safely. The California State Automobile Association offers these tips for driving on roads that are steep, narrow and winding.

1. Stay as far to the right of the roadway as possible. You're far safer near the edge of a road than you are driving in the wrong lane.
2. Sound your horn when you approach a blind curve.
3. If two cars meet on a grade the car going uphill has the right-of-way. If necessary, the car going downhill should back up to a place where it is possible for the vehicles to pass.
4. Use a lower gear going downhill and save your brakes.

C. Navarrette, Jr. Completes Course

NEWPORT, R. I. — Navy Commander Claude Navarrette, Jr., son of C. A. Navarrette of 37 Menlo dr., Daly City, Calif., recently completed the 10-month course of instruction at the Naval War College, Newport, R. I.

In addition, he participated in the 15th annual Global Strategy Discussions held at the college June 10 through the 14.

These classified discussions bring outstanding civilians from throughout the country to meet with student and staff members of the college and other high ranking military officers and evaluate some current national problems.

The Naval War College was established in 1884 to enable naval officers to study the tactics and strategy of naval warfare.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

If you are a TV movie fan a treat is in store for you this coming season over KGO-TV. They have just announced the purchase of 220 top current films which will premiere over the station next month. The list is quite impressive and will include such award-winning movies as "From Here to Eternity," "Room at the Top" "Ballad of a Soldier" and many others.

Walter Read Jr. who introduced the new series to the press commented that the Bay Area with its opera, symphony, film festivals is particularly well suited for this type of film fare.

We think the selection of the films is excellent. However, we are not happy about the time they will be shown.

They are scheduled to begin at 11:15 at night although plans to include some of the movies to be shown earlier in the evening. The premiere film will be "From Here to Eternity, and it is tentatively scheduled for 9 p.m. We do realize that prior network commitments make an early showing rather difficult we hope as many films as possible will be shown at a more convenient time.

As bright as the summer day filled with sunshine were the colorful fashions shown in the annual San Francisco Designers fall fashion show telecast "live" from Union Square over KRON-TV. There were such luscious colors as cranberry, electric blue, emerald green, but unfortunately the television audience couldn't see the colors because the telecast was in black and white. Here we go on our soap box again. Fashion shows are just made for colored TV and to be the most effective they should be telecast IN COLOR. For the "life of us" we cannot understand why networks do not realize the great potential audience for such a program. Women will tune in in droves because they adore fashion shows, stores will sell the clothes too, because nothing sells clothes like a fashion show.

TV NOTES: KPIX Publicity Assistant Toni Mannina is now Mrs. Dan Basich. Their wedding reception was held at the "Sons of Italy Lodge" on Mission with many guests attending from the local area.

Good news from KTVU is that they will continue the "premiere" series of motion pictures on Sunday and Monday evenings for the coming fall season. Among new MGM films to be seen are "The Last Time I Saw Paris," "The Bad and the Beautiful" and many other late releases.

KQED'S 4th annual Summer Music Festival is now telecast "live" on Tuesday evenings at 8:30 p.m. Many noted Bay Area artists will perform on the series during the summer months.

Recreation Department League

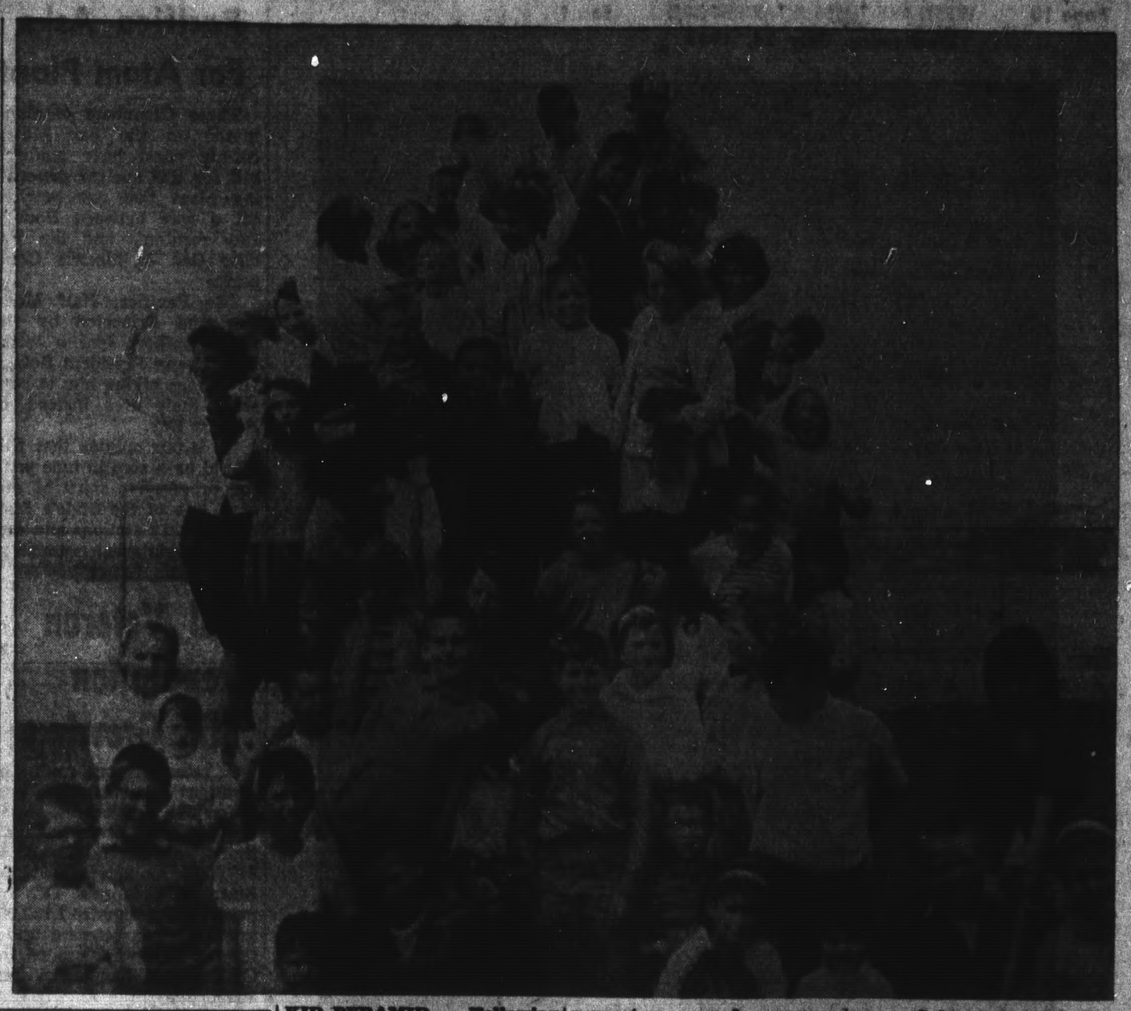
Summer Basketball Action

The high school summer basketball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department continued into its second week of play with top action in both divisions.

In LONG division play, the Clippers downed the Rangers 63-32 behind the 23 point output of Willie Jones. Teammates Willie Owens and Willie Mack contributed 12 and 14 points respectively to pace the fastbreaking Clipper attack. Marty Coil and Capt. Jim Smith scored 13 and 10 points in a vain effort to stop the high jumping victors. Other play at the War Memorial gym found the Celtics tripping the Gunners 59-21. Hal Westmoreland's 10 field goals coming mostly on jump shots was the top Celtic scorer. The outstanding floor play of Randy Willis and Westmoreland and the driving layups of Mike Cullen kept the Celtics ahead of the Gunners, despite the latter's stronger rebounding. Break MacClaren contributed 13 points to his team's well balanced attack. The smallest man on the floor, Gunner guard Ed Richenbacker pumped through 20 key points to lead his team's fine efforts. Although getting the best of the "battle of he boards," the losing Gunners just weren't hitting enough to overcome their crosstown opponents. Dan Crowe contributed 14 points to his team's losing cause.

Westmoor gym action in the LONG Division found the Clodhoppers dumping the Rascals 41-34 and the Whalers beating the Rams 62-54. The top floorwork of Ed Larrios and tough rebounding of Steve Willis were instrumental in holding off the late Rascals' rally as Larrios scored 11, Willis 14 and Bill Jones 12 in leading their team to victory. Sparked by Larry Kinkade's eight third quarter points, the Rascals made a run at the Clodhoppers but ran out of gas in the fourth quarter. Kingade and Dave Breazeale ended up as top scorers for the oceanside five with 10 points each. In their intra-school battle, the Whalers top notch shooting proved too much for the Rams. The balanced scoring of Jim Mason, 18 points, Mike Frank, 14 points, Bill Vince, 12 points and Mike Nannegian's 10 was the key to the Whalers victory. The back-court combination of Mason and Frank was too much for the younger Rams to handle. Jerry Donovan's 18 points and Bill Wuerthner's 13 points and rebounding were the top men in their team's valiant effort.

SHORT division play featured a tight battle between the Challengers squeaking past the Nats 34-32 despite a 17 point fourth quarter rally by the hard pressing losers. A shutout third quarter was the Nats' undoing. John Heick's high jumping rebounding and nine points and Roger Fess' 10 points were tops for the Nats. Captain Steve Zarate's playmaking paced the Challengers to victory as Herb Menekien and Kenn Liss scored 9 and 8 points respectively. The Hawks trounced the Linda Mars 49-13 in Tuesday's game at the War Memorial Community Center. Ron Lowe's 12 points and Telvis Jones' 10 plus the team's superior rebounding were too much for the relatively inexperienced Linda Mar bunch. Ed Staml's 5 points were tops for his team. The Breakers forfeited to the Knights in the third game of the week's chedule. In a SHORT division practice game, the Half Pints defeated the Challengers 29-24 despite Herb Menehen's game high 13 points.



KID PYRAMID — Following a Rec Department picnic at the Pauline Brown school, youngsters poured, cumasse, onto the playground for a summit conference. The dejected young lady at the far right was ejected for extremist political views.

OLM Leopards Top Nationals

The National Division has the OLM Leopards still on top this week. Should the Holy Angels Co[illegible]e able to upset the PAL Cardinals this Wednesday at Westlake Park, South Diamond, the Leopards will wear the crown alone.

The Carsa are heavy favorites to win over the Colts after their great game with the Leopards last Thursday night. Meeting in the game that could have decided the championship, Steve Kirby started off for the Cards against Dave Speith for the Dons. Kirby drew first blood for the Cards when he singled and scored Cards 1 Leopards 0.

The Leopards took their turn when with a man on second and third, a hard hit ground ball went through the Card second baseman Gervertz. Two runs were scored, Leopards 2 Card 1. Gary Wilson took over mound duties from Kirby and shut the Leopards out the rest of the way.

In the 4th winning, Steve Kirby again singled. The right fielder over ran the ball and then make a throwing error. Steve Kirby scored tieing the ballgame up at 2-2. Dave Speith went the distance for the Leopards fanning 10, giving up 1 walk and 2 hits, both to Kirby. Hampton hit a triple for the Leopards. The game went 10 innings before it was called because of darkness—a great ball game between 2 great teams.

Roberts Wins In Cypress Hills Play

Mrs. Kenneth Roberts topped the iron tournament play at Cypress Hills with a 85-15-70. A close second was Mrs. Harry Rasmussen with a 93-22-71.

Mrs. Ambrose Plattner led Class B with 104-30-74. Tied for second place were Mrs. Raymond Coyne and Mrs. Fred Williams, each with 100-25-75.

Scoring first place in Class C was Mrs. Al Sereni, 107-36-71. Second place winner was Mrs. E. Dorau with 112-36-76.

A "Medal Pay" Tournament is planned for next week on Thursday, July 25, 1963.

PAL Dodgers Bow Out of Intermediates

The outstanding PAL Dodgers bowed out of the Intermediate League with a final win over the Relish Bakery team 3-0. This was the third no hitter thrown against them. Bob Noffsinger, Vic Yerby and Mario Sandoval all hold the dubious honor of holding the Dodgers hitless and losing the ball game.

Rock Kubowitz's Dodgers seem to captalize on any error or mistake that their opponet makes. Their heads up ball and fancy base running gave them a great seasonal record. With this final game the Dodgers will leave the Intermediate diamond and move into the Junior League. This will put the Dodgers on the full size diamond and from their record, they are ready.

There is a real dogfight for second place in the Intermediate League, with Ben Franklin Press, BYA Relish Bakery and BYA Bender Roofing playing off. A drawing was held at the Recreation Department on July 22. Rich Brewer, President of PAL, drew two names out of a hat. These teams will meet, the third team wil play the winner of the first meeting. Ben Franklin Press will meet BYA Bender Roofing, and the winner will meet BYA Relish Bakery for second place. Arrangements for the playoffs are being made at this time. First game will probably be played Tuesday night at North Westlake Park.

Late Summer Basketball Opens Saturday

The Daly City Recreation will open its late summer baseball leagues this Saturday. New leagues will begin in midget, intermediate and junior categories. Marchbanks Diamond II

10:00 PAL Cardinals vs OLPH Golds.

12:00 PAL Yankees vs Misracks Midgets.

The Juniors will not play this Saturday but will have a league consisting of the PAL Tigers, PAL Cubs, BYT skyline Plaza and the PAL Dodgers. Schedules for the Intermediate and Junior League will be made up this week.

SEA BOWL NEWS

High scores abounded in last week's league and tournament shooting at Serra with honors divided very equally between Guys and gals.

At the top of the news we find the 850 SCRATCH league and the following results; Len Figuerro topped a host of high rollers with his outstanding 231-630 series for Eakin and Eakin who scored a 2½ to ½ win over team No. 4 led by Ron Scheer with a 570 trio. Running a close 2nd for individual honors was Ron Raeta who rapped out a 227-619 series to pace Susie's Do-Nuts in a 3-0 sweep over Drake Realty Co. Earl Friend Jr. just missed a spot on the 600 club with his 216-598 as Cristoni's defeated Dick's Tower in all three games.

High game of the week came in the Tuesday night GIANTS league when Tom Cano tossed a towering 278 in his third stanza and helped salvage one game for Ye Olde Fire House in their match with New Alpine Co. Tom had, unfortunately, gotten off to a shakey start and his big game helped him to push his three game tally to 564 for the evening.

In GUYS and DOLLS league action Milt Boaz paced his Al Pollack team to a three-game decision over team No. 5 with a worthy effort of 249-592 series.

After the big holiday play and pay-off in the Serra Wednesday night Scotch Doubles entries have slackened slightly but 1st place still paid $26.40 to Gil and Lee Driscoll for their 664 score. Last place winners Sandy Morabito and Al Coulter took home $8.25 for a 625 total.

In the Friday afternoon 3-6-9 tournament for ladies Rebecca Cascino and Anita DelCampo shared top spot with 688 trios while Marge Somdahl ran 2nd with a 683 effort.

Millie Welling topped the entire Knights of Columbus league this week with her fine 224-539 series but her Giants team was routed in a 2-1 defeat by the Tigers.

In afternoon kegling Marie Pascucci rates ladies laurels for her last performance in the Tuesday ROCKETTES league. Marie paced her team to a 3-0 triumph over the Half Quarts with a strong 212-485 threesome. For the vanquished Barbara Santucci rolled an even 300 series on triplicate scores of 100 apiece!

Public Asked To Report Fish Kills

California's Department of Fish and Game today asked the public's help in pinpointing the causes of San Francisco Bay fish kills that began in May and have continued, intermittently, since then.

Anyone who observes dead or ailing fish within San Francisco Bay is asked to phone the Department of Fish and Game immediately at GA 1-8800, Ext. 434.

Several thousand striped bass and a number of anchovies and sharks have perished in the Bay in the past six weeks.

Hi Fi Teen Club Rollerskating

Wednesday night, July 31, is rollerskating night for the Hi Fi Teen Club sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. Buses are scheduled to leave the War Memorial Community Center at 6:00 p.m. for the two-hour private party.

Approximate return will be 8:45 p.m. Cost of the rollerskating party is 70c which includes skating, skate rental, transportation and insurance. This activity is open to all Hi Fi members, their guests, and all new ninth grade students. No sign-ups are necessary. Just show up at 6:00 p.m.

Saints Tie for First

The San Francisco Saints by virtue of their 12-3 victory over the El Camino A.C. have cinched a tie for first place in the Tri-City Summer Baseball League sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. Only a Saints loss to league dormat Balieff Construction and a Jefferson A.C. win over tough South Sunset A.C. would bring the tie about.

In Saturday's battle, the booming bats of the Saints batters plus the 11 strikeout pitching of Jim Papalias was too much for the young El Camino nine to match. Pacing the 15 hit Saint attack was left fielder Frank Stratinsky who was 3 for four and Bob Warnke and John Vellaro who garnered two hits apiece. Pitching a no-hitter until the fifth, Papalias weakened only slightly in allowing the three runs which were too little, too late.

Sunday's top game featured the battle for second place between cross town rivals, Jefferson AC and Westmoor AC won by the former in eight innings 4-3. Westmoor AC hurler Mike Krnich was working on a 3-0 lead and his third no-hit game when disaster struck in the last of the seventh. A walk, Ken Smith's single (Jeff's first hit) an error and Jerry Benson's bases clearing triple sent the game into extra innings. Tim Pritchard relieved Jefferson AC George Egan in the eighth due to an injury to Egan's right hand and the young reliever promptly struck out the side. Danny Navarra's lead off walk in the bottom of the eighth was all the Jeff nine needed for victory. Navarra's great speed was the key, as stolen bases and ground outs got the winning run across the plate. Charles Phelps' two hits plus Krnich's excellent pitching were valiant efforts on the part of the hilltop nine.

Midget League Tie for First

Coach Cornell Holmes of the PAL Giants and Coach Chuck McGuigan of the OLPH Golds are very proud of their teams. The Giants and the Golds are tied for first place in the American Division of the Daly City Midget Baseball League.

Both teams have compiled a 12 and 6 record for a .667 percentage. The Giants held on to their piece of the Crown this week by nosing out the stubborn Holy Angels Lions 6-5.

The Lions also suffered defeat at the hands of the OLPH Golds.

The Golds and the Giants will play off for the championship as soon as the game can be arranged.

Maulers Win "Hunch" Title

The Maulers rule as undefeated champions of the Daly City Recreation Department's three-man "hunch" basketball league. Playing each Monday night at the Westmoor gym, the team of Ray Ross, Sonny Kennedy, John Marshall, Hud Hutchison and Mike Dotterweick took home the championship trophies with a perfect 9-0 record.

Second place trophies were presented to the Castoffs who included Gordon Johnson, Gary Pederson, Gary Twitty, Leo Wyrich and Larry Elmore.

Organized and run by recreation leader Gary Allyne, the league featured games of 30 points each on a round robin basis. Neil Locke of the third place Vats was voted the league's "Most Inspirational Player."

Pacifica Asks For Atom Plant

Three Chambers of Commerce on the San Mateo county coast have made a bid for the nuclear generating plant that has touched off a war between Bodega Bay residents and the Pacific Gas & Electric Company.

The Pacifica, Half Moon Bay and Princeton by the Sea chambers sent a letter to company President Robert H. Gerdes asking him to consider their area instead of Bodega Bay.

"It is our opinion that this would be a step in tune with the progressive spirit of our area, one of the State's fastest growing sections and one which holds great promise in California's future."

Cal Veteran Population Still Growing

A recent report from the Veterans Administration, based on the 1960 census, shows that as of December, 1962, there were an estimated 2,349,000 war veterans in the State of California. Of this number, an estimated 1,100,000 are California veterans under the various provisions of the California Military and Veterans Code.

San Mateo County Veterans' Service Officer, Floyd D. Granger says this is an increase of around 37,500 veterans from the figure given by the 1960 census.

The last count available, the 1960 census, shows San Mateo County has a population of 73,633 veterans, says Granger.

Dog Show Winners Are Named

More than 80 youngsters entered dogs in the Ken-L-Ration Kids' Amateur Dog Show at Westlake Shopping Center last Saturday according to promotion director Wally Blake. Every boy and girl was given an assortment of gifts for just entering. Winning dogs were awarded trophies, ribbons and merchandise by the Quaker Oats Company.

Judges were Claudia Smith, Miss Daly City, Judi Homan and Sue Schwoerer, all three young ladies have been "pirates" during the Westlake Shopping Center's July Treasure Chest Promotion. Also serving as a judge was Joanne Corner, who presented her poodle Taffy on the big stage in a series of tricks.

The best dog of the show was shown by little four-year old Heidi Lynn Reid with the necessary help of her father. Her entry was a huge St. Bernard puppy with the name of Casper. Casper was the largest dog in the show and also had the longest tail. The Reids live at 160 Hiawatha Avenue in Pacifica.

Other division winners were shown by:

Best Trick Dog — CoCo, a poodle entered by Janice Fernandez, 12, 801 Banbury Lane, Daly City.

Smallest Dog — Feya, a chihuahua entered by Frank Baccaro, 12, 650 Florence, Daly City.

Best Costumed Dog — Can-Dee Petite, entered by Lynn Ann Nolli, 11, 812 Heather Road (a pomeranian).

Figone, Drye Hupf Head Fund Drive

Alfred Figone, John Drye and Paul Hupf have been named Daly City Co-Chairmen for Mary's Help Hospital Building Fund Campaign, it was announced last night by Frank Curry, Chairman of the thirty-five man Citizens Committee.

Mary's Help Hospital is seeking $1,500,000 in building funds to complete the new $8,500,000 hospital now being built in Daly City. The appeal for funds being made in San Francisco and northern San Mateo County is under way and the Daly City Campaign Organization is gathering strength.

Figone, Drye and Hupf will head and give direction to a Teams Organization of 450 Volunteer Solicitors comprising some 15 Divisions. Division Chairmen already at work are:

Kenneth Edwards, Lowell Durham, H. T. Bosberry, Sanford Vickers, Dr. Roy Milam, Pete Markovich, Don Gordon, Adolph Nagy, Joseph Lewkowitz, Albert Polonsky, Mrs. Paul Neagle, A. J. Zirpoli, Phil Fraher, Ed Riedy and Joe Aarch.

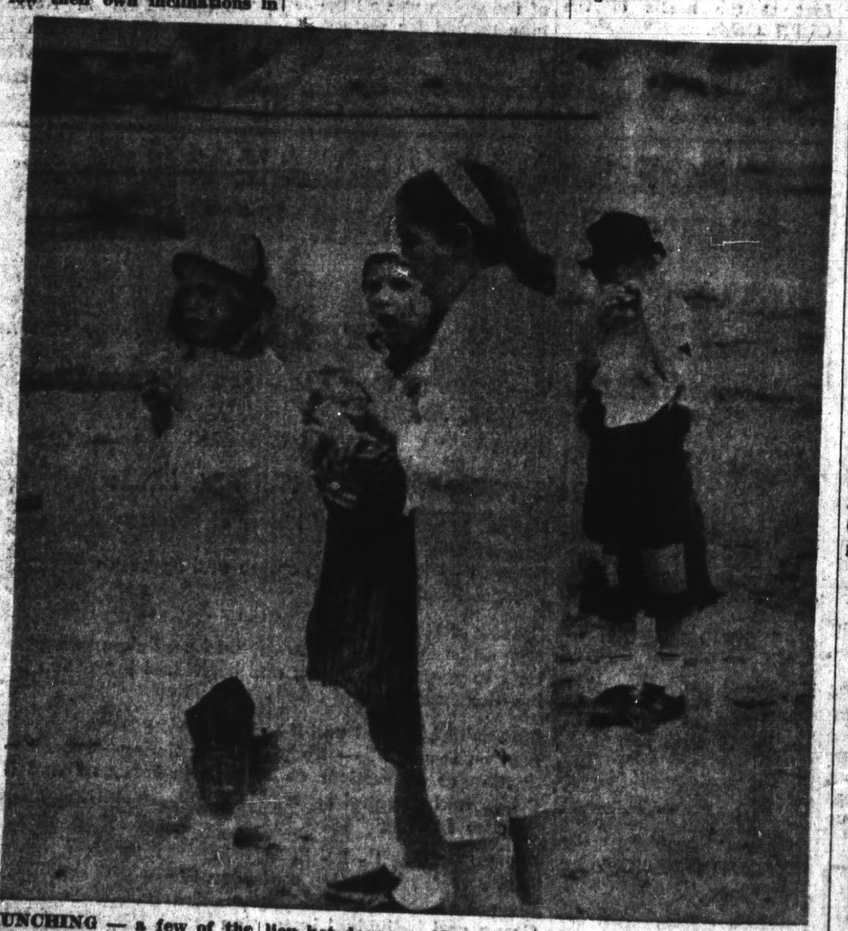
Prospective Team Captains and Division Chairmen met at campaign headquarters Tuesday night for a session of orientation and instructions and outlined plans for enlisting the necessary manpower for the seventy-five teams proposed for the organization. It is expected that most of the teams will be complete before the next meeting set for August 1.

Building funds for the hospital will be secured through face-to-face solicitation for subscriptions payable over a period of three years. All gifts are, of course, fully deductable for tax purposes.

ROADS AND STREETS

There were, according to the National Automobile Club, 3,573,000 miles of roads and streets in the United States in 1961.

The class is one of the several enrichment classes offered in the Jeff Elementary summer program.



MUNCHING — a few of the kids attending the Hobo cookout at Fernando Rivera school consume some of the nine million hot dogs provided by the Daly City Recreation Department. The Hobo Day theme was chosen by a vote of the youngsters, selecting their activity for their "Surprise Day."

Housing Code Effective Aug. 6

California's first statewide building and housing code will go into effect August 8, Ernest B. Webb, Director of the State Department of Industrial Relations announced today.

The Director said the new code, developed by the Department's Division of Housing, is the result of two years of research and public hearings.

Development of a statewide uniform code, which for the first time applies minimum construction, electrical, plumbing and heating standards to dwelling in unincorporated areas, was made necessary by the 1961 State Housing Law.

A study by the Assembly interim committee on Public Health had developed the need for standards of health and safety in construction, with adequate inspection in the rapidly developing unincorporated areas of the State in the interests of the consumer—especially the home buyer.

Francis Dunn, Chief of the Division of Housing, said that in writing the code the Division's staff studied hundreds of suggestions and recommendations from building officials, engineers, architects, and industry representatives throughout the State.

County Parks Serve Many Local Residents

San Mateo County has six parks, two historical sites and two roadside rests, which in 1962, served 2,000,000 people of which the majority were county residents.

The Parks System was started in 1924 with Memorial Park. To meet the rapid growth in population and increased park and recreation needs, a Master Plan was adopted in 1932. A Five Year plan of development was adopted in 1957. This is now complete.

Ralph H. Shaw, director, urges residents to enjoy their county parks and recreation facilities.

Every effort, he said, is being extended by county supervisors, parks and recreation commission, and department employees to insure a safe, beautiful and appropriate place in which residents can follow their recreational interests.

Programs and activities in San Mateo County parks consist of swimming, reservations, tennis, basketball, volleyball, baseball, horseshoes, camping, hiking, horseback riding, group picnicking, school reservations, day camping, naturalist program, camporees, regattas, handicapped recreation, playground services, Birthday Party Land, yacht harbor, drop-in picnicking, rifle and pistol programs and public education.

To keep the high standards of beauty and behavior which is traditional of San Mateo County Parks, it has been found necessary to:

A. Prevent cutting, digging, and breaking of any plants, undergrowth, ground or facilities.

B. Prevent removal of dirt, stones, or rocks, or other park materials.

C. Prevent disposal of any waste materials in any place but the garbage cans provided.

D. Prevent consumption of alcoholic beverages other than beer or light wines.

Camping Regulations: a permit must be obtained and camping is allowed in camp sites only.

The county does not allow pets in the parks. Maximum speed limit in the parks is 15 miles per hour.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

An experience that will live with them for the rest of their lives has been shared by two hundred little girls from Daly City. Last Friday marked the end of a two week session of day camp held at Junipero Serra Park for girls who are members of Brownie troops in Daly City.

It has been a memorable experience too, for thirty-six women who served as leaders and the four young girls who were camp aids. The leaders attended a special workshop prior to the opening of the camp to prepare them for their duties.

Each camp day is carefully planned. The girls are picked up every morning by Greyhound bus and transported to the park. They learned how to prepare one-pot meals whipping up such tempting dishes as "campfire stew." Making a real hit with the youngsters too, was the ice cream which they made by the old fashioned freezer method. They also worked with various crafts fashioning necklaces from leaves and foliage, and listened to a nature talk by the park ranger.

One of the most impressive days of the week session was inspirational day which was held last Thursday. Seated on a bluff overlooking the wooded park the girls gazed on a spectacular vista of trees, ocean, sky as they joined together in a moment of silence and then sang inspirational songs led by the camp aids.

This experience has been a precious memory that the little girls shared together. It would not have been possible without the assistance of the dedicated leaders who gave so generously of their time.

Certainly deserving of recognition as community leader of the week was the camp director, Sylvia Steinbach. In previous years she had been assistant director but this year assumed full directorship. She also conducted the workshop for leaders prior to the camp's opening. Two days a week she devoted to troops last year when she headed both a Brownie and intermediate troop.

She has also given many hours to other community activities serving on the Altar Society of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, is past vice-grand regent of the Daly City Court of the Catholic Daughters of America and was area chairman for United Crusade.

We salute Sylvia Steinbach as community leader of the week. The Steinbach family, husband Warren, father, uncle and two daughters (Sarah and Clara) live at 160 Los Banos Avenue in Daly City.

Come one—come all! Do plan on dropping by the elementary school this Wednesday evening (July 24) from 7:30 to 9 p.m. when the schools will be holding open house for parents and interested citizens of the community. On display will be many outstanding examples of the youngster's handiwork as well as classroom projects.

This has been the most successful of summer sessions with an attendance of almost 2000 students. Open house will be held at Thomas Edison, Benjamin Franklin, Fernando Rivera, George Washington, Woodrow Wilson and Colma.

As quiet as little mice are the enthralled tots that are attending the "Picture Book Story Hour" held each week at both branches of the Daly City library. So popular has the hour become that Children's Librarian, Rose Marie Kraus, told us that she has a "full house" every Wednesday at the Westlake branch. However, she did say that at the Mission Street branch there are still a few vacant chairs. Telephone the library for more information if you would like your child to attend. The story hour is from ages 3 to 8 years old.

UNDER CROSSED SWORDS held by Navy buddies of the benedict walked the smiling Lt. (jg) Robert G. Grubb and his bride, the former Miss Christine Ann Carlson, after their Saturday wedding at Treasure Island Naval Chapel.

Lt. Grubb Married At Treasure Island

In an impressive ceremony at the Treasure Island Naval Chapel Saturday afternoon Christine Ann Carlson of Millbrae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Carlson of Adrian, became the bride of Robert G. Grubb, lieutenant junior grade in the United States Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Grubb of Daly City are the parents of Lt. Grubb.

The double ring ceremony was read by Lt. Cmdr. J. E. Seim, chaplain in the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Gary Carlson, sister-in-law of the bride and the former Clareen Corley of Adrian, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Melinda Cecil, Christine Perkins, Joyce Witkowski and Marcia Spitz, all of San Francisco.

Kenneth Smith of Daly City was the best man and the ushers were Lt. (jg) Gary Carlson, brother of the bride; Lt. (jg) Bartlett Rhoades of Alameda; Lt. (jg) Tom Lynch; Lt. (jg) Herbert Richter of Long Beach; Com. R. D. Wood, commanding officer of the USS Everett F. Larson, and Com. W. T. Harper, commanding officer of the USS Berkeley.

Carrying calla lillies and stephanotis, the bride approached the altar with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her long, full-skirted gown was of peau de sole and appliqued with Alencon lace. From her pill-box crown with seeded pearls fell a fingertip veil.

The bridal attendants wore white crystalette with gold metallic around the panels which extended down the back of the full length skirts. Their short white veils were topped with white silk flowers and gold leaves. They carried roses and stephanotis.

Outdoor Crafts For Mountains Or Shore

By Bunny Gillespie

When your youngsters proudly displays a newly-found pine cone, scallop shell or nature-whatsis, followed by a statement that he'd like to make something with it, did you know that's he's expressing one of the basic desires of the human being?

The urge to create something from something dates back to the primitive man who first started making useful articles and tools.

As civilization progressed, man decorated the objects, simply for the pleasure of the eye, and later on, when he had satisfied his need, he created articles for pleasure and beauty alone.

Archeologists tell us that the painting of scenes on cave walls was helping to satisfy our ancestors' need to express themselves, as did the fashioning of jewelry from nearby materials such as stones and shells and the weaving of designs into fabrics.

The purist arts-and-craftist suggests that something made from a material should be finished to look like that material, that is, "Wood objects should be finished like wood, not metal or something else."

This summer, should your vacation take you to mountains or shore, you may wish to try your hand at working with a few of nature's wonderful storehouse of materials, available for the taking in most areas.

Wood Working

The discovery of a fallen softwood tree can be a real find to wood workers, since

ROMANTIC NEWS of the engagement of Geraldine Caldarola and Gerald Raffo was revealed July 14 at a cocktail party hosted by the bride-to-be's parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Caldarola.

Caldarola-Raffo Reveal Bethrothal

A wedding in January is in the plans for Geraldine Caldarola and Gerald Raymond Raffo, whose betrothal has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Caldarola of 399 Bel Mar avenue, Daly City.

The future Mrs. Raffo attended Dominican College and Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill.

Geraldine is currently completing studies in speech pathology at San Francisco State College.

Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Raffo of Burlingame and a 1958 graduate from the University of San Francisco. He is a member of the bond investment department of the Bank of America.

The all-time record for swimming the English Channel in either direction is held by Helge Jensen of Canada who swam it in 1960 from England to France in 10 hours, 23 minutes.

Steffen-Lovrin Vows Exchanged

White stock and gladioli decorated the sanctuary of St. Michael Church for the nuptial mass which united Gail Ann Steffen and Louis John Lovrin, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steffen, 230 Sagamore street, San Francisco, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis John Lovrin, Sr., of 81 Broad street, San Francisco.

For the noon nuptial mass, Gail Ann wore a gown of hand clipped chantilly lace which had been daintily embellished with seed pearls at its scalloped Sabrina neckline. The full skirt was in tiered ruffles and it ended in a chapel train. From a multi-pointed crown of seed pearls cascaded a finger-tip veil of sheer nylon net, and a single strand of pearls highlighted the bride's jewelry.

Gail Ann's bridal bouquet was a crescent-shaped arrangement of white orchids and stephanosis.

Preceding the bride to the altar were two diminutive flower girls and four feminine attendants, all of whom wore frocks of sherry pink silk organza over taffeta that were fashioned with three-quarter length sleeves, a scooped neckline and a bell skirt accented by a single self rose at the back.

Their flowers were arrangements of pink delight roses.

Serving as the maid of honor was the bride's sister, Patricia Steffen, and completing the feminine roster were bridesmaids Priscilla Moretti, Barbara Nelson, and Bonnie Barbaria and flower girls Paula Fochetti and Kathy Meek.

Gary Randhahn served as Louis' best man and Dennis Fochetti, Kenneth Lovrin and Joseph Marrama were in charge of seating guests. The ring bearer was Richy Meek and the Rev. James E. O'Malley officiated at the ceremony.

Immediately following the marriage, the new Mr. and Mrs. Lovrin greeted guests at a reception held at the Sons of Italy Hall.

For the event, the bride's mother, Mrs. Steffen, donned a gown of aqua chantilly lace and chiffon and a matching chapeaux.

Gail Ann, who was graduated from Mercy High School and who furthered her education at San Francisco City College, wore a navy blue suit with navy and white accessories for her going-away ensemble.

Louis, a Balboa High School graduate and the brother of Mrs. Barbara Meek, took his bride to Canada for a honeymoon and the couple will return to reside in Pacifica.

A TOAST TO THE FUTURE is in the hands of the recently-wed Mr. and Mrs. Louis John Lovrin, Jr. (Gail Ann Steffen) who exchanged vows at a nuptial mass at St. Michael Church recently. After a Canadian honeymoon, the couple will live in Pacifica. (Photo by Don Faulkner.)

VFW Auxiliary To Picnic Sunday

After the business meeting refreshments were served by Rose Fisher.

Visiting dignitaries from the 12th District included Georgette Carter, Morgan Hill, 12th District president; Doris Jenson, San Jose 12th District chief of staff; Beatrice Larson, Morgan Hill, 12th District assistant conductress, and the Department of California, chief of staff, Myrtle Kloch of Hollister.

Each officer was presented a beautiful white cattelya orchid corsage. Rose Becker, Auxiliary historian, was hostess for the evening and she made and presented the corsages to each visitor.

On July 28 the 12th District meeting will be held in Santa Clara. Rose Fisher and Maryann Read were elected delegates to attend the bi-monthly meetings.

Also on July 28, the Post and Auxiliary will join together in a family style picnic to be held at Flood Park, San Jose. The Auxiliary is noted for its aid to veterans and their families. They visit the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital every month and provide three hours of evening entertainment for the shut-ins. Adeline Collins, Mayre Albert, Sarah Diaz and Rose Fisher presented the program for July. Jesslyn Walsh is Chairman of these Projects.

Fund raising functions to be held in the near future will be a rummage sale, pancake breakfast, grocery boxes and Hi-Neighbor gift basket, which are all planned for public participation.

Brisbane Luncheon to Honor Aviatrix Miller

The Mayor of the City of Brisbane, James E. Williams, has announced that Mrs. Betty Miller, the Santa Monica housewife who was the first woman to fly the vast Pacific Ocean solo, will be honored at a civic luncheon on August 1.

Carrying the greetings of the California community to Brisbane, Australia, on her recent (May 1963) historic trip, Mrs. Miller will return to the peninsula for a presentation on behalf of the "Down Under" metropolis.

Consul General Frederick T. Homer and Consul Kenneth J. McCloskey, official representatives of the Australian government for the 14 western states will be on hand to greet Mrs. Miller.

As a special feature of the luncheon, Mayor Williams will greet Lord Mayor Clem Jones of Brisbane, Australia, via a transpacific radiophone hookup arranged through the courtesy of the Pacific Telephone Company.

A host of diplomatic, civic and industrial leaders will take part in the luncheon program, according to City Manager Lanier Brady. Mr. Robert B. Murray, Jr., executive vice-president of Pan American World Airways, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Supervisor T. Louis Chess will head the list of local government officials, and industrialists planning to attend include William Morton and M. Sherman Eubanks of the Crocker Land Company and Industrial Park; the tax commissioner of the Southern Pacific Company, Ray Marks, and his assistant, Ralph D. Smith; M. M. Harris, president of Van Waters and Rogers; and J. T. Lester, manger of Dohrmann Hotel Supply Company.

Mrs. Miller presented the City of Brisbane, Australia with a silver plate as a good will gesture from San Mateo County. It was one of her first official acts as she participated in ceremonies upon the landing which followed her historic solo flight across the Pacific.

Brisbane, California, adopting the Santa Monica woman flyer, has planned the civic luncheon to recognize her achievement.

Reservations for the 1 p.m. luncheon to be held at the Twenty-three Club and Cafe in Brisbane, are being accepted by Mr. Brady and the City Hall, DE. 4-5252.

Grubb Married

sure Island was the scene of the reception and attended by 200 guests. Lt. Grubb and his bride are now honeymooning in the Sierra. After their return they will be at home at 102 Pomona, Long Beach.

The bride is a graduate of Adria High School and Michigan State University. Lt. Grubb, after his graduation from Jefferson high school at Daly City became a midshipman at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. He is now Operations Officer on the USS Everett F. Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Grubb, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at the rehearsal dinner given at the Officers Club, Treasure Island, Friday evening.

Between Us Gals:

it is an excellent source of material for carving.

After studying the shape and grain of the specimen you wish to work with, draw your design on the wood so that it parallels the grain. Following the cutting of the general outline of the object you wish to make, put in details and round out shape.

To finish a wood brooch or other small object, sandpaper it until smooth, using first medium sandpaper and finishing with fine sandpaper. Next, rub linseed oil into the wood, wiping off excess. Rub with mixture of oil and pumice and finish off by rubbing with wax until shiny.

To attach a clasp on your wood pin, cut a slot in the center of the back and fill with plastic wood. Press the back of a safety pin into the plastic wood. Dry for at least two hours.

Driftwood, old roots and burls can be carved into attractive lamp bases, centerpieces or candleholders.

Shells gathered and merely tucked away in a dark corner at home might better have been left on the beach.

Sorting, naming and displaying can be as much fun as finding shells.

Shell Mounting

Shells may be mounted on heavy cardboard or wood by fastening with a transparent-drying cement. An appropriate background color, perhaps sea green or foam blue, may be used.

Small shells may be embedded in clear plactic that will harden into blocks, handy for book-ends, paperweights or just as ornaments.

Still life combinations, to be used in shadow boxes, centerpieces or ornamental pictures, are fun to build.

Arrange shells with other sea-life forms such as coral, sea fans, sea horses, starfish, etc.

Shell Craft

A pair of tweezers and some transparent-drying cement is a small price to pay for the hours of enjoyment to be found in shell craft.

Countless items can be made from shells or decorated with them. Use tiny shells to decorate almost anything from paper tissue boxes and frozen to summer bags and hats.

Jewel or pill boxes from juice cans (for pencil holders) transparent tape cans or plastic boxes are fun to make and to treasure.

Simply cover the box (sides and top, or just top) with glue and arrange your shells. You may wish to plan your arrangement on a non-glued surface first and transfer it.

Some shell-craft ideas, borders on trays, shadow boxes, frames or mirrors, decorations on telephone pads, desk sets, waste boxes, clocks, lamp shades, sewing boxes, cookie jars, belts, sport shoes and toys.

Book Ends

Two large matching shells make nice book ends. Stain or paint two smooth blocks of heavy wood, about 2½" thick. When dry, mark the block with a soft pencil to show exactly where you wish to place the shells.

Spread cement or glue on the part of the shell that will rest on wood and put in place carefully.

The cement will take several days to dry, but a lovely set of book ends will be yours.

Shell Jewelry

A thin nail with the head rounded off will help in making holes in the shells you wish to string for necklaces, belts or bracelets. Patience and practice are also required.

For an attractive necklace, vary shell types and sizes and intersperse with old costume-jewelry pearls or colored beads. Remember that most necklaces are planned from the front center to the ends, with each side balanced.

Shore Sculpture

This is fun for kids of all ages, adults too.

The damp-to-wet sand found on a river bank is ideal for plaster-of-paris sculpture molding.

Scoop away sand to create desired design. Sand must be just wet enough to retain firmness when plaster is added. Too wet sand will let casting plaster "leak," too dry will not hold contours.

Mix dry casting plaster and water in bucket. Color if desired with powered paint. When mixture is firm enough to pat into and retain shape, pour into scooped-out sand mold.

If done in heat of day, drying process will be somewhat quick. When hard, sculpture is raised from sand and excess sand brushed away. Shells, rocks or twigs placed at bottom of damp sand mold will be embedded in sand-surfaced face of sculpture.

Sculptures done at evening may be left over night to dry at riverside, making an exciting discovery for the next morning.

Nature Scenes

Round cottage cheese lids make ideal backgrounds for nature scenes and welcome wall placques at home.

Cover the printed side of the lid with an opaque-drying all purpose glue. When tacky, press on bits of twigs, sea weed, moss, tiny rocks and shells.

A casting plaster and water mixture may be used in place of glue, but remember that it is rather quick setting. Have nature specimens ready to embed, not too deeply, as soon as plaster is poured.

Paper Weights

Using small aluminum foil pie plates, attractive paper weights may be made.

Grease well the inside of the dish with cooking oil, arrange rocks, twigs, etc. in base. Do not handle them with greasy hands or they will not stick in paperweight.

Gently (until almost full) pour plaster and water mixture into dish so as not to disarrange specimens. When plaster is hard, remove paperweight and dish may be reused. Cover base with felt if desired.

Centerpieces

Larger aluminum pie dishes become attractive dinner table centerpieces, mantle decorations or coffee-table conversation pieces, with a little artistic talent and utilizing of 6" or 7" candle ends.

Gather several walnut-sized rocks or shells, a twisty leafless branch (5" to 8" tall,) a small pine-cone or what have you.

Do not grease pie dish. Pour in wet plaster to half-full, stand candle upright at center and circle with rocks. Place twisty branch where candle-flame will not ignite. Place remaining materials as you wish.

Pie dish makes silver-colored border around arrangement.

Painted Cones

A well-shaped pine cone is a long-lasting souvenir, either in its natural state or embellished.

Crayon or paint alternating tips. For a fancy conversation piece, glue on beads, pearls or sequins and a few well-spaced ends (about ¾") from small birthday candles. Melt end over flame to attach.

Save a few especially well-shaped cones to use with Christmas decor. Insert colorfully-wrapped candles and make a clever and inexpensive gift.

Next week! Fun at home, or why live in the Bay Area and not enjoy it? Fifth of a series.

A CARMEL HONEYMOON was the choice of Patricia and William Berardy, recent addition to the roster of Daly City young marrieds. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomson of this city.

Pat Thomson Wed To Bill Berardy

A home on Hillside has been established by the recently-wed Mr. and Mrs. William L. Berardy III, (Patricia Ann Thomson) who exchanged vows Friday in San Francisco.

The newlyweds were feted at a large reception hosted Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomson, 225 1st street, Daly City.

For her marriage, Patricia wore a white full-skirted street dress with a white orchid corsage pinned to her shoulder.

The benedict's mother and brother, Terry, were witnesses for the 4 p.m. nuptials.

The young couple honeymooned in Carmel and returned to acknowledge the well-wishes of friends and relatives at Sunday's party.

Patricia, who attended Jefferson Union High School, received the felicitations of her grand-parents, Mrs. Hazel B. Thomson of Santa Cruz and L. M. Thomson of Sunnyvale, and (on the maternal side) Mrs. James Lincoln of Crow's Landing. Her grand-uncle is John Trummer of Palo Alto, who with Mrs. Trummer, were among those present at the reception.

Local Savings Bonds Increase

"U. S. Savings Bonds are enjoying a banner year," volunteer San Mateo County U. S. Savings Bonds Chairman George A. McQueen announced here today when reporting that sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Northern California reached a record total of $10,-96,493.

The chairman attributed climbing sales to the current National Freedom Bond Drive which is asking every American family to buy one or more extra bonds during the drive as a personal action program for keeping freedom in their future.

"Northern California sales for the six-month period of January-June, 1963, amounted to $70,936,932," the chairman continued, comparing this with sales of $64,981,513 for the same period a year ago.

"Ten years ago," he noted, "Northern California U. S. Savings Bonds sales for January through June were reported as $52,627,773."

On a local note, he advised county residents that they helped the Freedom Bond Drive to the tune of $379,123 worth of Savings Bonds purchases during the month of June.

"National holdings of U. S. Savings Bonds are at an all-time high of over $46 billion," he said, "making the bond program of major importance in maintaining our nation's economic stability."

Three Stores Open

Big Celebration At St. Francis Square

Three more stores will open their doors at St. Francis Square in a center-wide celebration which will include amusement rides, a free puppet show, and a personal appearance by a kiddie show TV star, according to Bill Schaefer, merchants association president.

A delicatessen, women's fashion apparel store and a shoe repair service are the newest addition to 18-store St. Francis Square shopping center, Southgate Avenue and St. Francis Blvd., here in Daly City.

St. Francis Delicatessen, located in the Lucky 7 Liquor store, will hold its grand opening this week-end, with Nielsens' Fashion Apparel and Mike's Shoe Service both scheduled to open August 1.

The new delicatessen will feature the most complete selection of gourmet cheeses and cold meats in the Daly City coastal area according to John Ferroggiaro, 475 Girard street, San Francisco, owner and operator of the delicatessen. Ferroggiaro stated that he will also stock a large selection of imported and domestic bulk noodle products and imported gourmet foods . . . "to please the most discriminating palates" Ferroggiaro stated.

"I should be just about everybody's headquarters for just about every epicurian need," claimed John Ferroggiaro with a winning smile.

St. Francis Delicatessen will also feature BBQ chicken and spare ribs to take out as well as pizza and roast meats.

Ferroggiaro has been in the delicatessen business in San Francisco and was associated with the Armanino Cheese Company there for the past 12 years. St. Francis Delicatessen will be open from 9:00 a.m. 'til 9:00 p.m., seven days a week.

Neilsens' Fashion Apparel, which opens August 1, will feature nationally known brand name apparel for women, acording to owners Mr. and Mrs. Gene Neilsen of San Francisco. The St. Francis Square shop will be the Neilsens' second store in the Bay Area. They will continue to operate their other store, located at 1532 Ocean Avenue.

Neilsens' Apparel will be under the management of Mr. Neilsen's daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Tealdi, 1648 Marco Polo Way, Burlingame.

Mrs. Neilsen has a background of some 20 years in women's fashion retailing and has been in business on Ocean Avenue for the past 15 years.

Mike Lessa brings over 10 years of shoe rebuilding experience to Daly City residents when he opens Mike's Shoe Service next Wednesday, August 1. Lessa has closed his other location, the Ideal Shoe Renew on Monterey Blvd., in making the move to St. Francis Square. Mike's Shoe Service will feature While-You-Shop service at no extra cost and will offer complete shoe care for the entire family in keeping with St. Francis Square's policy of a complete family shopping center.

Schaefer stated that Lessa, who resides at 32 Belford drive, Daly City, is also a master of custom leathercraft and claims he hopes to offer this hand-tooled leather goods service at St. Francis Square soon.

In addition to the three new stores, other leases are under negotiation for the remaining space at the center, added Schaefer.

The St. Francis Square Fun-Fair gets under way at noon today and will run through Sunday. Special discount ride tickets are available from all center merchants. A free kiddie puppet show is scheduled for Saturday at noon.

The new refrigerator-freezers hold anything

NO MORE DEFROSTING. That's the story on the new frostless refrigerator-freezers. And they hold up to 50 per cent more food—yet take no more kitchen space than refrigerators of ten years ago. That's because the walls are thinner, the insulation better, the design more modern. You'll find a wide choice of decorator colors, too. See your Reddy Recommended Appliance Dealer today.

"Fun After 50" Club Visits Orchid Farm

On the morning of July 11th an informative visit to "Acres of Orchids," the Rod McLellan Co. world famous orchid nursery on El Camino Real, South San Francisco, was enjoyed by almost 100 members of the Fun After 50 Club of Redwood City.

The guests, whose ages ranged from 50 to to well over 90 years, were welcomed by Rod McLellan who, with other members of his staff, conducted the visitors in informal groups on a tour of the nursery.

Many of the members showed interest in the breeding—or hybridizing—of orchids carried on at the nursery and in which the Rod McLellan Co. leads the field.

At the end of their visit each guest was given a gardenia corsage.
